A love story about a woman unexpectedly forced to choose between the husband she has long thought dead and the fiancé who has finally brought her back to life

"A chilling debut in which a detective must uncover the dark history of a luxury hotel in the Alps if she has any hope of stopping the deaths that won't let up... Half-hidden by forest and overshadowed by threatening peaks, Le Sommet has always been a sinister place. Once a sanatorium treating tuberculosis patients, it was abandoned years ago and had fallen into disrepair. Long plagued by troubling rumours, it has recently been renovated into a lavish hotel. And an imposing, isolated hotel, high up in the Swiss Alps, is the last place detective Elin Warner wants to be. But having received an invitation out of the blue to celebrate her estranged brother's recent engagement, she had no choice but to accept. Arriving in the midst of a threatening storm, Elin is immediately on edge. Though it's a stunning retreat, something about the hotel makes her nervous - as does her brother, Isaac. When Elin wakes the following morning to discover Isaac's fiancée Laure has vanished without a trace, Elin's alarm grows. With the storm cutting off access to and from the hotel, the more the remaining guests start to panic. Yet no one has realized that another woman has gone missing. And she's the only one who could have warned them just how much danger they're all in..."--

Journalist Brenda Contay doesn't look for trouble—but it keeps finding her... When Brenda Contay makes it big on local TV as WDIG's Lightning Rod reporter, everything seems to be turning around for her. The only problem is her success comes from her butt looking good in a pair of Levis. When an old lover drowns off a tiny island in the Pacific, Brenda quits her job to learn the truth—because all-state swimmers like Vince don't just drown. Drawn into a scandal of global proportions involving one of the ten richest men in America, Brenda's chance of living to break the story is next to zero. But that's the one thing about the anything goes girl: she hates to lose.

- Digitally restored illustrations- Translated captions- Annotated Vincent Van Gogh often depicted individual trees, orchards, arboretums, parks, forests and groves through the skilled prism of his own unique vision, from rectory gardens and wooded areas of his native Holland to the parks and gardens of Paris and finally to the various fruit trees, cypresses, willows, pine trees, poplars and olive groves of Southern France where he spent his last years. In some of his finest work, the branches and leaves of cypress and other trees take on the swirling effect mirrored in the trademark Van Gogh sky. 1888 and 1889 were peak years for his tree paintings. Vincent Van Gogh's short art career provided the world with unparalleled paintings from a troubled genius. It was to be an age of post-Impressionistic color, form and wonderment that the art world discovered only after the master's death. Bouts of anxiety, mental illness and epilepsy may have tormented him and brought about his suicide at the age of 37. But they may also have been catalysts for an emotionality and vibrance in his art that reveals a turbulent search for grace. This volume displays 50 examples of Van Gogh's finest tree art in a digitally restored state: their eye-popping brilliance and vitality are just as on the day Vincent Van Gogh finished them. Unless otherwise noted, they were originally oil paintings on canvas or wood.
