evil. Tortured by his past and haunted by what he believes might be his future, Michael seeks redemption--but will the past prove to be too strong? How can he break free of it and be the man he longs to be for Airel? If only he had never... Airel. Michael's one true love. He had forced her to drink in new life only to find that old wounds and deep scars do not heal overnight. Can she truly forgive Michael, can she truly love him? And can he accept that forgiveness? Or is it all for nothing, and has he gone too far already? As the darkness of past choices closes in on them, chases them, intercepts them, coming at them from everywhere at once, how can their love possibly survive?

Airel knows the love of her life has arrived when she first sees Michael, but this normal teenage girl living in Boise, Idaho can not anticipate the darkness to come.

REVIEWS: "It takes rare talent for a man to write a novel from a male POV and have it published to great critical and commercial acclaim. But it takes a miracle for that same male, or in this case males, to write a novel from the POV of a teenage girl and have it turn out as incredibly as did the new StoneHouse YA by Aaron Patterson and Chris White, AIREL. From the first sentence, I felt compelled to dive into this young woman's story and just as importantly, I felt like I personally knew her, which means I laughed, stressed and cried right along with her. A beautifully written and crafted fiction about teenage innocence, faith, loss and love. A must read for teens and adults alike." --Vincent Zandri, International Bestselling Author of The Remains, The Innocent, and Concrete Pearl

Michael did the unthinkable to save Airel from death, but now must live with the choices he has made, good and evil. Tortured by his past and haunted by his future, Michael seeks redemption. Airel drink in new life only to find that old wounds and deep scars do not heal overnight. Can she forgive her love or lose him forever in her mind.

All he wanted was to be free...Appearances can be deceptive: Michael. Choices made in ignorance still have consequences. Michael bought the lie, now he wants the truth. But people who live on beaches shouldn't build castles made of sand. Will he have what it takes? Can he be man enough for Airel? The haunted past again clashes with what has been unleashed in the present in Michael, Book 2 of the Airel Saga.

[Vincible: a. capable of being overcome or subdued; conquered.] Book One: Greye Every story contains faces on the fringes. Those on the outside looking in. Observers who seem to have no power or influence. They're just along for the ride. Or are they? They're people like Greye. And Anna. And Sydney and Nika. All friends, all people who go to Borah High with Airl. Airl used to be one of them, trapped in the uncomplaining backdrop. But there's something different about Airl Cross now, and people like Greye are beginning to notice. It's undeniable, like a clouded sunrise, and it's no use concealing the inevitable. These four girls, Greye and Nika, Anna and Sydney: each have a story to tell. They are The Vincibles, and their time is short. For Greye, the end comes first
