Other Colors: Essays and A Story by Orhan Pamuk

Having loved Nobel Prize winning author Orhan Pamuk's MY NAME IS RED, I was eager to read his book, OTHER COLORS: ESSAYS AND A STORY. It was interesting to pop in and out of both his autobiographical and observational essays about other novelists and about being a novelist himself, and although less engrossing for me than RED, as is often the case with essays, I found much of value in it.

Review: Other Colours by Orhan Pamuk | Books | The Guardian

In an essay on the Peruvian writer Mario Vargas Llosa in Other Colors, Pamuk writes, “It is clear . . . that there is a sort of narrative novel that is particular to the countries of the Third World. Its originality has less to do with the writer’s location than with the fact that he knows he is writing far from the world’s literary centers and he feels this distance inside himself” (page 168).
